GMDC is at the forefront of India's energy transformation, committed to responsible and sustainable mining practices that power industries, enable infrastructure, and contribute to national progress. Our vision is to drive the transition to a cleaner, more efficient energy landscape while maintaining our strong legacy in mineral exploration.

Burapahar Mine – A New Era of Energy Security 547 Million Tonnes of Coal Reserves Located in Sundargarh District, Odisha, the Burapahar Coal Mine is one of India's most significant energy assets. With 547 million tonnes of reserves, this mine is a strategic contributor to India's growing energy demand. The upcoming dedicated rail terminal will enhance logistics, ensuring faster and more efficient coal supply to key consumers.

Pioneering Blue Hydrogen through Coal Gasification as part of India's transition to a net-zero future, GMDC is actively exploring Blue Hydrogen production through advanced coal gasification technology in Odisha. This initiative aligns with the country's clean energy goals and represents a major step towards reducing carbon emissions.

THE FUTURE IS BLUE

And we are paving the way to Make it in India

Blue Hydrogen is emerging as the fuel of the future—a vital component in India's transition to a clean energy economy and net-zero vision. Recognising this transformative potential, GMDC is strategically exploring Underground Coal Gasification (UCG) in Odisha to produce Blue Hydrogen, Clean Energy, and Chemicals.

OUR CSR: Connecting with the people

- At GMDC, we don't just extract resources, we nurture talent and build stronger communities. Through our skill development initiatives under GMDC-GVT, we are equipping Odisha's youth with industry-ready skills in CNC Turning & General Duty Assistance (GDA), opening doors to sustainable livelihoods and brighter careers. By enabling job-oriented training and hands-on industry exposure—like the recent CTTC Bhubaneswar visit for 40 students—we are actively boosting employability, fostering socio-economic growth, and creating a self-reliant workforce across the state.

Skilled individuals drive stronger economies, and we are proud to be a catalyst for Odisha's workforce transformation—shaping a future of growth, opportunity, and progress!

- At GMDC, we recognize that growth is not just about industries—it's about people. With the flagging off of new staff and school buses at our Bhavnagar and Rajpardi project sites, we take another step towards building stronger, more connected communities. This initiative ensures that children can reach school safely and employees can commute with ease, reinforcing our commitment to holistic development and social well-being. Because when people move forward, progress follows.
